

EMOTIONS

Children often use only a few words to describe how they feel. Having a broader vocabulary for feelings can help children to understand themselves and others in a deeper way. Children who express how they feel are able to solve problems with words instead of actions.