

SELF-ESTEEM

People with high self-esteem value and respect themselves. They are less dependent on the approval of others, more resistant to peer pressure and better able to follow their own judgment.